EDUCATING INDIAN CHILDREN.

An Order Issued by the Government Authorities Compelling Indian Children to Attend School—Report on the Subsistence of the Army—Construction on the Alien Labor Law in Connection with the World's Fair Employees—Other National News.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—The commissioner of Indian affairs, with the approval of the secretary of the interior, yesterday issued rules and regulations to enforce the attendance of Indian children of suitable age and health at schools established and maintained for their benefit. The rule prescribed, provides that every Indian youth shall attend some school, but so far as practicable the preference of Indian parents or guardians, or of Indian youths of sufficient maturity and judgment, will be regarded as to whether the attendance shall be at government, public or private schools. Children of a suitable age is defined to include all those more than five and under eighteen years of age. The suitable health of a child is to be determined by a medical examination. In case there is no boarding school on the reservation, the rules require that the children be placed in non-reservation schools. Where children are not allowed by their parents to attend school, they will be reported to the Indian office for whatever punishment the circumstances warrant. The rules make it the duty of agents, special agents and supervisors of education to use their authority whenever necessary to secure the attendance of Indian children at school, and whenever necessary Indian police will be called upon to enforce attendance.

SUBSISTENCE OF THE ARMY.

The Commissary General Submits His Annual Report.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—General Du Barry, commissary general of the subsistence of the army, has submitted his annual report to the secretary of war. The report states that the resources of the department for the year were $3,585,987, and the expenditures were $2,887,586, leaving a balance of $648,451. The subsistence supplies issued to Indians and transferred to the Indian department during the past year aggregated $49,895.

There were issued to destitute citizens at various posts, upon order of commanding officers, 4,735 rations, most of which were issued during the Sioux campaign.

For liquid coffee $38,700 was expended, an increase of $1,293, largely due to the movement of troops made necessary on account of the campaign with the Sioux.

The value of stores and property reported lost by accident and wastage in transportation was $9,307, loss on sales of condemned supplies $17,277.

ALIEN LABOR LAW.

How It Effects Workmen at the World's Fair.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Acting Secretary Spaulding has written a letter to the secretary of state in regard to the construction of the alien contract labor law by the attorney general, who holds that skilled experts who may come from foreign countries to aid foreign exhibitors in setting up and operating machinery to be brought to the United States and exhibited at the world's fair, as well as clerks, stall keepers and other persons whose services may be required by foreign exhibitors, are outside of and not subject to the contract labor law.

Mr. Spaulding expresses the belief that this opinion of the attorney general does not permit the admission of Chinese laborers to assist Chinese exhibitors and that they can only be admitted by an act of congress removing the prohibition that operates against them.

Agreement with the Indians.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Secretary Noble yesterday received a dispatch from David H. Jerome, chairman of the Cherokee Indian commission now at Ponca, Indian Territory, stating that an agreement has been signed with the Tonawase Indians, ceding 80,000 acres to the United States, the money consideration being $80,000. The negotiations with the Ponca Indians will be resumed tomorrow.

OMAHA, Oct. 23.—The Minneatta hotel at Hot Springs, S. D., burned last night. Loss, $75,000.

FAMINE IN MEXICO.

Failure of the Corn Crop Causes Great Destitution to Exist.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Oct. 23.—W. T. Robertson, the contractor for the construction of the Durango extension of the Mexican International road, arrived here yesterday. The destitution among the people of that section of Mexico, he says, is even worse than reported, the drought not having yet been broken. The government has removed temporarily the duty on corn on account of the famine, and large quantities are being shipped from the United States. The famished people, however, receive little benefit, as the corn fall into the hands of speculators, who put the price up. A few days ago a wealthy landowner living near Torreon, Kalmers, received a big consignment of corn, the price of which he placed at $1 per bushel. When the poor, starving cattle herders in the vicinity learned of his action, a mob of them got together, and proceeding to Kalmers' home, took him out and shot him dead.

TOOK IT FOR A SQUIRREL.

Boys Beaten for Firing at Farmer Cadmus' Cap.

HOLLIS, N. Y., Oct. 23.—Samuel Cadmus, residing near here, wears a squirrel skin cap. Yesterday morning he started out to gather chestnuts, Charles Kinkel and Harry Austen, two Long Island City youths, were ranging the woods near here in search of squirrels.

Cadmus had climbed a tree to reach the nuts. The boys saw the tip of the farmer's fur cap among the leaves. They believed it to be a squirrel and blazed away at the target. The hat came down and so did Cadmus. Several shots had grazed the man's head. He refused to accept the apologies of the frightened boys, and seizing a stick proceeded to beat them. The farmer's head was dressed at a drugstore in Jamaica.

Contradictory Testimony.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 23.—In the Byram-Sullivan suit against the insurance company yesterday, Marshall Pugh, the owner of a large stock farm, testified that Sullivan was at his farm from 8 o'clock until late in the evening of the day of the fire. The witness gave an account of the visit, and showed by his books that Sullivan's horse was left at his farm that day. John Lehman, Sullivan's driver, testified to going with Sullivan to the farm, and swore that they did not return until about 8 o'clock that evening, an hour after the fire originated. All the testimony yesterday was directly opposite that given the previous day.

Rich Farmer Goes to Prison.

MUNCIE, Ind., Oct. 23.—After being out twenty-four hours the jury brought in a verdict finding Joseph Pugsley guilty of larceny, and sentenced him to the state prison for one year and a fine of $1. Pugsley is a wealthy farmer residing near Dalesville, ten miles west of Muncie. A few months ago Thomas Conley, a neighbor, missed a new plow from his field, where it had been left the night before. A few days later Conley discovered Pugsley using it. Conley, greatly surprised, offered to take the plow home and say nothing. Pugsley's refusal of the offer resulted in the sensational arrest and conviction.

The plan is a very novel one and consists in the issue of certificates payable in installments, which, when fully paid, are to be exchanged for tickets to Chicago.

BASE BALL MEETING.

Association Representatives Meet in Chicago.

BUT LITTLE BUSINESS DONE.

Chicago Admitted Which Means That the Columbus or Louisville Clubs Will Be Dropped from the Circuit of the American Association.

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—The men who make and unmake the affairs of the American Base Ball Association were slow in getting together at the Wellington hotel yesterday, many of them not getting in on the morning trains. As a result the meeting, which had been called for 10 o'clock in the morning was put off until 4 in the afternoon.

The executive committee of the Association went into session shortly before noon, for the purpose of discussing the business to be brought before the full meeting. Von Der Ahe, of St. Louis, was accepted as proxy for Hart, of Boston, who is unable to attend the meeting on account of illness. The new Chicago Association club was admitted to membership and the committee then proceeded to review the financial strength of the various clubs for the purpose of making up a report to be presented at the meeting in the afternoon.

Both Kansas City and Minneapolis have been specially invited to the meeting and have representatives here.

The directors found that the Association was in an excellent financial condition and that there was a considerable balance in the treasury.

The fine of $50 imposed upon Kerins, the umpire, for indecent language on the field at Washington on the occasion of the protested decision giving Washington a game from Baltimore by a score of 9 to 0, was sustained on appeal.

Umpire McLaughlin's decision, giving the Boston-St. Louis game of Sept. 12, to St. Louis, 9 to 0, was also sustained.

The annual report of President Phelps showed that St. Louis, Columbus and Louisville had been most prompt in paying their dues, but that Boston, St. Louis and Philadelphia had turned in the largest amounts. President Phelps spoke in harsh terms regarding the suspicion attending the League pennant contest finished this year and congratulated the Association that the hippodrome playing and throwing of games were unknown in its ranks. Clubs were urged to discharge discourteous and ungentlemanly players.

The report concluded by saying that the breach between the League and the Association had baffled all efforts to bridge it over and the opinion was expressed that the League would agree to no settlement unless assured of the best of it.

The bond of President Phelps to the sum of $20,000 was accepted, together with his report.

The regular meeting was called to order by President Phelps at 4 o'clock, with the following delegates present: Baltimore—H. R. Van der Horst, J. W. Waltz.

Boston—Julian B. Hart, represented by C. Von der Ahe.

Columbus—Conrad Born, R. Lazarus, G. Schmelz, E. Tompkins.

Louisville—G. Ruckstuhl, T. J. Bateman, F. J. Dexter, Jr., John C. Chapman.

Milwaukee—H. E. Gillette, Charles H. Cushman.

Philadelphia—J. E. Wagner, George Wagner, William Barnie.

St. Louis—C. Von Der Ahe, George Munson, E. Von Der Ahe.

Washington—M. B. Scanlan, E. Sutherland.

The secretary read and the meeting adopted President Phelps' annual report. Chris Von Der Ahe, of St. Louis, then moved that the Chicago club be received into membership. The motion was seconded by William Barnie, of Philadelphia, and unanimously adopted. Applications for membership from several clubs were read, but without taking action, the meeting adjourned until today.

BALL PLAYER DEAD.

Death of a Man Who Recently Retired from the Diamond.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Edward M. Dailey, formerly captain of the National base ball club, died at his residence in this city last night of consumption.

EDWARD M. DAILEY.

Dailey formerly resided in Providence and was prominently known as a professional ball player. He began the season just closed with the Louisville club as pitcher but his arm failed him, and he joined the Nationals as captain and right fielder. His health, however, was not good, and he retired from the diamond and opened a saloon, which he managed until his death.

AN UNMARKED GRAVE.

The Once Governor of a Great State Sleeping in a Pauper's Grave.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Oct. 23.—The grave of Paris C. Dunning, once the governor of Indiana, is unmarked in the cemetery of Bloomington. He died a pauper at the National hotel in this city in 1893, and was buried in a private lot that since that time has been made a part of the city cemetery.

A movement is now on foot by a number of leading citizens to erect a modest monument to his memory, and a petition is being circulated for signers, asking that the commissioners of the county make an appropriation to that end.

Paris C. Dunning was elected Lieutenant governor of the state with Governor Willard, and upon the death of Governor Willard he became the governor of the state. He was, after that time, a leading Democrat in Indiana, but previous to his death declared himself a Republican.

He was also a man of wealth at one time, but misfortune overtaking him, he died a pauper and without friends. It was a common sight in his last days for him to beg money to buy the necessities of life, and to this time his grave is unmarked and unkept.

How Deep Was It Down?

SEYMOUR, Ind., Oct. 23.—Early last June, during a heavy wind storm, a tree on the farm of Mortimer Hamilton was blown down, and in falling one limb struck squarely across the back of a large snapping turtle, and the "varmint" was forced down into the hard earth. Yesterday the limb was cut away and the "snapper," released from its imprisonment, crawled off, comparatively unharmed, from its prison of clay, where it had lain, immovably fixed, without food or water for over four months.

EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & McCARTHY,
Proprietors.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 23, 1891.

The following paragraph was taken from the Maysville Bulletin:

There is no let up in the religious discussion in the Dover News between the Christians and Baptists of that place. Mr. James N. Boyd throws out the following "def" in last week's issue: "We have a challenge in writing from the Baptist Church signed by the committee, in which we find this proposition: 'That the church or kingdom of Christ, which is now called Missionary Baptists, has stood from the days of the Apostles down to the present.'"

"We demand its discussion. Let us see who backs down at home and not at Fairview. Don't say we have not time, for we have all winter. Let us come to business and not slang Goliath to death. These matters are too important to be passed without careful consideration."

The Baptists of Dover replied to this "def" through the columns of the Dover News, publishing the correspondence that passed between the two churches. They showed that the proposition contained in the aforesaid "def" was included in the challenge which they sent to the Reformers. In the reply which the Reformers made they utterly ignored this and other propositions which the Baptists presented. We have looked in the BULLETIN for some sort of statement of the Baptist side of this matter, but we have looked in vain. Now, it occurs to us that secular papers ought to ignore religious discussions altogether, except as news items, or they ought to be fair to both sides. The BULLETIN does neither, but is one-sided in such matters. The report of the debate at Fairview between Moody and Sweeney was written by a Reformer for the BULLETIN and was a one-sided affair. The position of the BULLETIN, however, may be accounted for by the fact that its editor is identified with that denomination.—Bracken Baptist.

The BULLETIN is under many obligations to the Bracken Baptist for its advice as to how "secular newspapers" ought to be run, but we haven't been in the business these many years for nothing. We are not entirely ignorant on that subject. If the paragraph copied by the Bracken Baptist from the BULLETIN isn't a "news item" will the editor of that paper please tell us what it is? One might infer from the way he talks that he really doesn't know what an editorial is when he sees it. He certainly didn't find the paragraph in the editorial columns of this paper. It was given as a news item, and we were so little interested in the discussion at Dover that we didn't pay much attention to the reply published the following week. We don't remember now whether we even read it or not. One thing we do know, though, and that is we didn't read all the wordy articles that were rehashed week after week in the Dover News until its kind-hearted and indulgent editor had to mention "chestnuts" to the parties engaged in the discussion.

Again, the BULLETIN is not in the habit of inquiring into the denominational preferences of its correspondents. The report of the Fairview debate was written by Colonel John B. Herndon, our Desha Valley representative, and we never knew he was a "Reformer" until we read the Bracken Baptist's statement to that effect. In writing up the Fairview debate the Colonel, as he always does, followed his own inclinations. He had no instructions whatever from this office. The statement by the Bracken Baptist that the Colonel's report of the debate was "one-sided" is the first we have heard of or seen to that effect.

The editor of the Bracken Baptist misjudges us, and we make this reply to his article simply in order to set ourselves right before our Baptist readers.

"The new Constitution lops off four members from each of the 119 grand juries, just as the fall grand jury season begins," remarks the Louisville Times. And the result of that lopping off is a big saving to the State annually. The new Constitution is all right.

A DESCRIPTION of the Hauss system of electric railways which does away with overhead wires was published a few days ago. It has since been learned that Mr. William H. Cox, of this city, was the first one to suggest to Mr. Hauss the plan of placing the wire under the rails. Mr. Hauss knows a good thing when he sees it and was not slow in making a practical application of the suggestion. Mr. Cox is entitled to credit for the invention.

The Play To-night.

Says an exchange: "Mr. Kelly and his present company have been identified with the sensational melodrama, 'The Shadow Detective,' for years. It has been highly successful. The drama is particularly strong in sensational scenes and elements which appeal to the better nature of an audience. Its plot is interesting, and introduces the star in four characters—'Geo. Thornton,' the shadow detective; 'Munty O'Brien,' an Irish policeman; 'Giovanni,' an Italian, and 'Zack Beantoss,' a Yankee. His supporting company includes John J. Collins, Harry Albaugh, Rich Anderson, Miss Joan Cravey, May Buckingham, Annie Nagles and other dramatic artists, besides some clever specialty artists."

At the opera house to-night.

The engineering corps, six in number, looking out a route for the new road from Johnson to Maysville to connect with the C. and O. were at the Stonewall House last Tuesday night. They think it will tap this place. So mote it be.

Quite a sensation was caused here last Wednesday evening by Ambrose Moran shooting off a pistol at random in the Guilfoyle barroom. He was arraigned before Judge Worthington and fined $10 and costs. Later in the evening rocks were whirling through the air. One stray stone struck Marshal Worthington.

THE MARKETS.

Cincinnati Tobacco Market.

(Wednesday.) The offerings were large. There was no special demand shown for any grades, and there was a generally easy, irregular market. The number of hogsheads of good to fine leaf and color grades was proportionately very small, but they held steady at former prices. Common and medium leaf and red tobaccos were dull, buyers not giving these grades much attention. Common trash, lugs and nondescripts showed a fair demand, and prices were in the main unchanged.

First new made its appearance to-day, being one hoghead leaf sold at the Miami Warehouse at $16.75, and one hoghead trash sold at the Walker house at $5.60.

Of the 735 hds, 150 sold $1 to $3.95, 221 from $4 to $5.95, 172 from $6 to $7.95, 57 from $8 to $9.50, 96 from $10 to $14.75, 54 from $15 to $19 and 5 from $20 to $23.

NEW YORK, October 19.—The New York Herald has startled its companions of the press by the announcement of a free discussion of the question of the times—"The Silver question." Their columns are open. It matters not, either silver, gold or currency will suit Frank Owens Hardware Company for all goods in hardware, guns, ammunition, coal vases or anything else.

ONE's loss is another's gain. The buyers of clothing have the gain on their side this time, as the Red Corner Clothing House has been selling suits and overcoats from $3 to $5 less than they can be bought elsewhere, and there is talk of a regular cut in prices. The Red Corner always leads in selling better goods for less money than any one else and we hope they will continue this cut as it assists all classes of people.

Mlle. DECCA captivated her audience at Louisville, as she does everywhere she sings. The musical critic of the Courier-Journal says: "She is unquestionably one of the greatest singers who have ever been heard in Louisville. Her voice is a soprano of great range and extraordinary purity and smoothness and cultivated to the highest pitch of perfection. Her execution of the brilliant ornate arias of Donizetti and Rossini was faultless. Miss Decca's voice reminds one of Gerster's, when that great singer's gifts were unimpaired. To hear her sing, is an unadulterated pleasure."

The Sullivan Trial.

THE arguments in the Sullivan case were commenced yesterday morning. Mr. A. A. Wadsworth opened for the defense, and was followed by Ex-Senator Worthington for the Commonwealth, and he by L. W. Robertson, Esq., for the defense. Mr. Robertson closed last night at 8:30 o'clock. Hon. C. J. Bronston, of Lexington, who is assisting in the prosecution spoke this morning. The closing speeches are being made this afternoon and the case will likely go to the jury late this evening.

THE following gentlemen compose the jury: Jas. H. Dudley, Jack Moren, Wm. M. Carpenter, R. C. Garey, Jas. H. Graham, W. S. Williams, A. D. McIntyre, Jerry Turner, Jas. M. Wallingford, E. S. Morrison, John E. Cord, John W. Kelley.

ANOTHER RAILROAD.

The Preliminary Survey for the Extension of the Narrow Gauge From Johnson to Maysville.

THE preliminary survey for the extension of the narrow gauge railroad from Johnson Junction to Maysville was completed yesterday.

MESSRS. E. H. Lander and Bruce S. Grannis, of Fleming, were in charge of the engineering corps. They returned to Flemingsburg yesterday afternoon.

THE line surveyed comes by way of Mayslick. They secured a good route to the top of the Maysville hill, where it strikes the Hill City pike which it follows almost to the junction with the Fleming pike. It is proposed to cross Limestone Creek somewhere near Mr. W. H. Yancey's residence, thence to a junction with the C. and O. east of the creek, crossing the K. C. track just west of the round house. This part of the survey has not been made. The route is through one of the most fertile sections of Mason County.

THE road from Johnson to Hillsboro is now owned by Columbus, O., and Eastern capitalists—McHargue & Co.—and it is said they have ample funds to make the extension. The only question with them is whether the increased business which would result from the extension will justify them in making the investment. They will decide that point when the probable cost of the proposed extension has been calculated.

Simon Kenton Dead.

DIED at his home near Lower Blue Licks, Tuesday night, Oct. 20th, Simon Kenton, Esq., aged 74 years. He leaves a wife and eight children, all of whom are married. Says the Carlisle Mercury: "Mr. Kenton was a grandson of the old pioneer whose full name he bore, and was a man of strict integrity and honor. He was a member of the Methodist Church, and was a bright Mason, and had been treasurer of his lodge for about 40 years." His remains were buried at Carlisle yesterday.

MINER'S MAXIMS.

INNOCENCE of Intention Repairs no Damage; It's a Poor Consolation to the Damaged.

You may be as sharp as a razor in driving bargains—even weazels have been caught asleep. An unfair exchange doesn't differ much from robbery. Once victimized, it's your own fault if you don't profit by the lesson of experience.

On some purchases you can not be far out of the way; on purchases from Miner you can't be out at all. Buyers take no chances with him; they have what the racing men call "a dead sure thing."

This is the time to buy good Winter Boots and Shoes. Do you know what was said to the man who remarked, "Better late than never?" The answer he got was, "Better never late." A thing may be well done, but it's doubly done well if it's done at the right time.

Subject Miner's Shoes to the judgement of an expert, put them to any kind of test you please—the more exacting the test, the more apparent will their merits become.

Miner will deal with you as he would like to be dealt by.

A FACT!

We made the following proposition to a man who was about to visit Cincinnati and Louisville: If Webster's International Dictionary, with Noyes' No. 19 Stand could be bought for less than we could sell them to him, in either of the above cities, we would sell him one for one dollar less than their (Cincinnati and Louisville) price. He came back and bought our Dictionary and Stand for $13.50, and said it was one dollar and twenty-five cents cheaper than the best houses in the other cities would sell it to him for. TEACHERS, can you do without one? PARENTS, it is brain food for your children. Keep one where they can partake thereof at any time. FLOODS IN EUROPE.

No Relief for the Storm-Beaten Island.

THE HURRICANE CONTINUES.

Vessels Wrecked in the English Channel and Fears for the Lives of the Sailors. The River Thames Overflowed for Over Thirty Miles—Other Events Happening Across the Ocean.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—There was a renewal of fierce gales over England last evening, and at the moment of writing there seems to be no relief in view for the storm-beaten island. At Sandgate, Kent, an unknown bark is ashore. Notwithstanding the fact that a fearful sea is rushing and roaring through the English channel, the crew of the local life boat have braved the storm and put out to the relief of the endangered sailors.

Dispatches from every part of Great Britain are arriving here, all telling of the vastly increasing floods. It is feared that the damage consequent upon the submerging of property will aggregate an enormous sum. For a distance of thirty miles the Thames has overflowed its banks. At Windsor the Thames rose four inches higher, flooding the meadows, a portion of the race course, and the play-fields of Eton college. Miles of Home park and Egham meads were also submerged.

Change in Army Equipments. BERLIN, Oct. 28.—The Kaiser has given his sanction to the changes proposed by the war office in the appearance and equipment of the German army. The chief object sought to be achieved is the exchange of bright colors that attracted the aim of an enemy for hues that will make the soldier a less conspicuous target. White leather accoutrements are abolished, and the heavy spiked helmet is discarded for lighter head gear. The changes when effected will almost entirely transform the appearance of the German troops.

SWEETHEART'S GIFTS.

A Kentucky Judge Decides That They Cannot Be Reclaimed.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 28.—Squire Herd yesterday decided a case that is of interest to susceptible lovers who make presents to the objects of their temporary affections and then desire to transfer them with their fickle fancies.

Robert Austin, a trainman, some time ago gave a watch and chain valued at $44 to Maggie Klop. He afterward took it from her and gave it to Birdie Chandler. A little later he took it from Miss Chandler and gave it to a young lady he married. Yesterday the first-named girl sued Austin and his wife for the watch, and a few minutes after the fair Birdie filed a cross petition and asked for the watch. The magistrate decided that it belonged to Miss Klop, the one to whom it was first given.

BRIDGE GAVE WAY.

Three Workmen Precipitated Into the Potomac River.

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Oct. 28.—A span of the bridge now in course of construction over the Potomac river, at Hancock, Md., gave way last evening and precipitated two representative of the Groton Bridge company, of Ohio, named Smith and Stone, and a Mr. Blakeall, of this city, ninety feet into the river below.

The water in the river was comparatively shallow, and Mr. Stone, who came down head first, was instantly killed. Mr. Smith fell on his side and received probably fatal injuries. Mr. Blakeall was lucky enough to strike the water feet first, and received only severe bruises about the legs.

ANOTHER INDIAN WAR.

The Yaquis Again Making It Lively for the Grangers.

NOGALES, A. T., Oct. 28.—The state of Sonora and, in fact, the entire republic of Mexico, is again in fever of excitement by reason of the Yaqui Indians along the Yaqui river having declared war and entered upon a campaign which promises to be a bloody and troublesome one. The Mexican government is concentrating troops as rapidly as possible and preparations are being made for a vigorous campaign. The importance of the situation leaked out through contracts being made in this city for a large supply of cartridge belts and canteens and the urgent request that orders be filled with all possible haste, regardless of expense.

Midnight Assault.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 28.—W. P. Thatcher, street car driver on the Central avenue line, Wednesday night saw two men at the Tenth street turn-table eyeing him suspiciously. He had passengers and the men withdrew into the darkness. This was next to the last trip. At midnight, on his last trip, as Thatcher was going into the stables the two men appeared suddenly before him. One hurled a stone that narrowly missed him and went through the car windows. Thatcher was anticipating an attack and opened fire upon the assailants. They fled behind a building and the pistol marks show that Thatcher's bullets went in the right direction. A grocery in the neighborhood had been robbed and all the car men were on their guard.

Flew to Pieces.

ENGLISH, Ind., Oct. 28.—A heading-jointer in Carr's stove factory flew to pieces, being driven too rapidly, and the flying fragments were hurled in every direction, the greater number tearing holes in the roof. Superintendent Carr was struck in the breast and seriously injured. Mrs. Carr, who had entered the factory through curiosity, received a slight scalp wound. Several workmen were imperilled. The machinery was badly wrecked, scarcely a respectable fragment of the jointer being left. A hole five feet square through the roof and another equally as large and three feet deep where the machine stood gives some idea of the force.
